

2010 Congressional Art Competition slideshow, featuring student contributions.

This year's competition was held at Chesterfield Arts in Chesterfield, Missouri and featured 28 student entries, judged by Nicole Dutton and Janessa Toro. First prize winner, Kevin Cochran from Parkway North High School will receive three round trip airline tickets to Washington, DC this summer, courtesy of Southwest Airlines, to attend the Official Art Hanging Ceremony, plus a scholarship to The Savannah College of Art & Design. Mr. Cochran's art will hang in the Cannon Tunnel between the Capitol and the Cannon House Office Building for the next 11 months for visitors to see.
